Greetings from Dr. Hoyt

We are pleased to update you on what has been going on with the Terry Risk Management and Insurance Program this past year. Thanks are due to December 2003 RMI graduate Chad Carpenter and Kennon Keane of our staff for assisting in the preparation of this year's newsletter. As you will see from some of the news items below, 2003 was another exciting and successful year for the RMI Program. 2003 also brought some changes to our staff. After nearly 30 years at UGA, Jim Trieschmann retired this past June. We owe a tremendous debt to Dr. Trieschmann for his many contributions to our program. In Fall 2003 we added a talented new assistant professor to our staff, Dr. Martin Halek. With over 60 employers attending the Risk & Insurance Careers Day, 2004 is off to a strong start. Thanks to all of you who contributed funds in support of the RMI Program in 2003. Please keep us in mind in 2004. The form on page 19 has a gift designation section for this purpose. Let us hear from you!

2003 RMI Alumnus of the Year Christopher A. Duncan

Chris Duncan is the VP Finance & Chief Risk Officer for Delta Air Lines in Atlanta Georgia, where he has responsibility for internal audit, risk management, insurance, claims and information security/privacy. A graduate of the University of Georgia (BBA 1985, MBA 1986), he also holds the Chartered Property Casualty Underwriter and Associate in Risk Management designations. He is the co-founder of Navigational Sciences Inc., a

Charleston, South Carolina based satellite imagery and geographic information systems technology company specializing in marine transportation issues, and is a Fellow and Councilor of the American Geographical Society.

Prior to Delta, Chris was the Director of Risk Management and Field Security for Frito Lay, in Dallas Texas, and previously with KFC USA Inc. (another PepsiCo division) in Louisville Kentucky in various strategic planning, risk management and operations leadership roles. Past employment also includes consulting positions with Coopers & Lybrand and Tillinghast, a Towers Perrin company. He started his career with Ford Motor Company in Dearborn, Michigan. Chris is the past president of the Risk Management Research Council, and a member of the Risk & Insurance Management Society's risk manager roundtable. Chris resides in Marietta, Georgia with his wife Lisa, and two children, Matthew and Jake.

Nominations for RMI Alumnus of the Year can be sent to Dr. Rob Hoyt in the Department office or via email: rhoyt@terry.uga.edu.

Insurance Department Continues to Raise Bar in Terry with Distinguished Wharton Hire

Dr. Martin Halek

265C Brooks Hall
Athens, GA 30602

mhalek@uga.edu

Dr. Martin Halek is a new Assistant Professor of Risk Management and Insurance in the Terry College of Business. He joined the UGA faculty in August 2003 after two years as an assistant professor at the University of North Carolina - Charlotte. Dr. Halek earned his Ph.D. from The Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania. He has also earned an M.S. from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and a B.A. from Whitman College in Walla Walla, Washington. Prior to graduate studies, Dr. Halek worked as an actuarial consultant for an employee benefits consulting firm in Seattle. Currently, Dr. Halek teaches the introductory risk management course and has taught in multiple areas of insurance, risk management and finance. From a student's perspective, Dr. Halek is extremely personable and has the student's best interest in mind. He builds his teaching philosophy around challenging students to think critically and apply knowledge learned in class to situations they will encounter in their professional careers and personal lives. He exposes them to modern day risk management and insurance topics, problems and possible solutions. In addition, he attempts to expose students to the many opportunities available in the risk management and insurance industry. Dr. Halek's current areas of research include risk behavior, insurance economics, social security and ratings effects on financial institutions. He has published and refereed articles in peer-reviewed journals and is a member of several professional organizations. Dr. Halek and his girlfriend, Amanda, are enjoying Athens and UGA. Outside of academia, Dr. Halek's hobbies include travel, snowboarding, skiing, biking and cooking.

28th AIMS Conference Held

The Terry College's Risk Management and Insurance faculty, in cooperation with the Office of Executive Programs, hosted the 28th Annual Invitational Managers Seminar at Flinchum's Phoenix on Oct. 16-17. Participants included 42 executives, 14 seniors majoring in Risk Management and Insurance (RMI), and seven faculty members. Department Head Rob Hoyt served as the moderator for the conference.

The invited executives included risk managers, insurance brokers and agents, insurance company managers and other risk management services providers. Companies represented included General Motors, International Speedway Corp., Travelers, Wausau, Chubb, AIG, Marsh, the State of Georgia Risk Management, HRH, A.J. Gallagher, State Farm, Zurich, AON, Palmer & Cay, as well as 20 others.

Conference participants and 17 additional RMI students attended a dinner held at Trump's in downtown Athens. At the dinner, Associate Dean Sandra Gustavson welcomed attendees, and scholarships from participating companies totaling $26,250 were presented to 20 RMI students.

RMI Program On Top

The insurance program at UGA's Terry College of Business continues to be ranked in the nation's top four by U.S. News & World Report magazine in its annual ranking of "America's Best Colleges." In a recently released "Guide to Risk Management and Insurance Schools" published by Business Insurance magazine, the Terry RMI Program topped the list of the largest undergraduate insurance programs in the country. This is the second year that the guide has been published, and the second time the Terry College has been top ranked (www.businessinsurance.com).

Mentor Program Enters Second Year

The Atlanta RIMS Chapter and the Georgia CPCU Chapter are working cooperatively with representatives from the University of Georgia and Georgia State University to create a dynamic new mentor program. Last year was the inaugural year for this program and the feedback from both industry and student participants were very favorable.

Dean Jobko, a mentor from Mirant recalls the experience as "beneficial in several different ways. Personally, it allows me to give something back to a program from which I have benefited greatly in my career. That is a strength for the Georgia program - people tend to stay involved in one way or the other after they have left school. For students, I believe it allows them to get a feel for the business environment they will soon be joining in addition to getting feedback on the various career paths they may want to consider upon graduation. In my role as mentor, I wanted to be sure Will Cromley (my mentee) had the opportunity to hear not only my views on the business, but also the views of other employees in my group, brokers and underwriters if at all possible. For those in our business, there are countless transfers between disciplines (risk manager, broker, underwriter, etc.), but each person has to take their own individual path to get to the job they really want." Will Cromley commented from a student's perspective, "The mentor program allowed me to see the day-to-day functions of a Risk Manager as well as providing a network of invaluable contacts within the industry."

In its first year 12 UGA RMI students were paired with an industry mentor. This year's class has grown to 22 UGA students who have each been assigned an industry mentor. More information concerning this program can be found at <http://www.terry.uga.edu/insurance/resources/information/mentorship.php>

Scholarships Awarded to Two Doctoral Students

Joseph Ruhland, a second-year doctoral student in the risk management and insurance program, has been awarded a $10,000 Pre-Dissertation Scholarship from the Spencer Educational Foundation for 2003-2004. In addition to the financial award, Ruhland will be paired with an industry mentor as part of the foundation's mentor program. <http://www.spencered.org/>

André P. Liebenberg, a doctoral candidate in risk management and insurance, was recently notified that he is the recipient of the $5,000 John M. Breen Fellowship Award from the James S. Kemper Foundation. This is the second year that Liebenberg has received this award. <http://www.jskemperfoundation.org/index.htm>

James S. Trieschmann Retires

After spending 30 years at the University of Georgia in Athens, Dr. James S. Trieschmann retired this past spring. He began there in 1973 as an assistant professor of risk management and insurance. Advancing through the ranks, he became head of the Risk Management and Insurance Department in 1977 and then head of the Insurance, Legal Studies and Real Estate Department in 1983. From 1986 to 1998, Jim was associate dean of the Terry College of Business at UGA and associate dean for faculty and research until 2000. For the last 17 years, he held the prestigious Dudley L. Moore Jr., Chair of Insurance.

Jim's college days began with a football scholarship at the University of Arkansas during 1962 – 1964. He recalls, "It was a different type of education, but still a very important educational experience. I learned the hard way that you cannot always succeed no matter how hard you try. There is always someone smarter and willing to work harder than you. However, it did give me a fierce drive to compete." And compete he did, as he earned his bachelor's degree in business administration with a specialty in accounting from the Walton College at the University of Arkansas in 1966. Two years later, he received his M.B.A. in statistics and economics from the same school.

In 1970, Jim earned his D.B.A. (Doctor of Business Administration) from Indiana University – Bloomington, majoring in finance with two minors in economics and insurance. He wrote his dissertation for John D. Long who was the head of the Insurance and Real Estate Department there. After getting his doctoral degree, Jim began his teaching career as an assistant professor of finance at the University of Missouri – Columbia during 1970 – 1973.

Jim quickly got his CPCU designation in 1973 after taking the five required examinations. The conferment speaker at the ceremony in St. Louis, Mo. was none other than E. J. Leverett, head of the Risk Management Department at UGA, with whom he interviewed just two months earlier; Jim is glad to have gotten the position! After becoming a CLU in 1975, he decided to retire from test taking, declaring, "it's a far, far better thing to give tests than to take them." Holding true to this statement, Jim went on to serve on the CPCU test panel for parts 3, 4, 5, and 6 for over 15 years.

From 1971 to 1997, Jim published 20 papers in The Journal of Risk and Insurance, as well as 35 more articles in other journals such as the Journal of Accountancy, The CPA Journal, Business Horizons, The JFQA (1973 and 1979), and The Academy of Management Journal (2000). Since replies to some reviewers needed to be 10 pages or more, the last article took five years from start to finish. Based on this experience, Jim claims to have a much greater respect for management journals now.

Jim also published many articles in the CPCU Journal and was on its board of editors for 10 to 15 years. As department head, he placed a great deal of importance on CPCU-type course content for the commercial lines and risk management classes. When recruiters discovered that UGA students were taking and passing CPCU examinations, they believed that the students here were indeed different and started to give them a much higher priority. Also, an increased emphasis was placed on ARIA, thanks to Jim, as UGA housed the ARIA Executive Director position for about six years. Through the years, Jim has received a number of honors: The JRI outstanding article award (1974), the outstanding lifetime research award at The Terry College (1991) and the outstanding lifetime service award at The Terry College (2002) (Jim was not eligible for this last award until 2001 because he always chaired the selection committee). In addition, Jim was twice honored with the Les B. Strickler Innovation in Instruction award; the first time was with Rob Hoyt involving a computer game and the second time involved a student, faculty, and insurance executive interactive seminar, done in collaboration with Sandra Gustavson.

On a personal note, Jim has been married to Donna V. Trieschmann for the last 35 years. Jim had to miss a few ARIA meetings in the early 1970s because of the birth of their two daughters, Martha (1971) and Donna Catherine (1974, the year he received his JRI outstanding article award). Their son, Jimmy, arrived five years later. In 1983, when Jimmy was four years old, Jim became president of ARIA and he and Donna began taking their three children to ARIA meetings during the 1980s. "Everyone remembers the ARIA meetings. It was our good luck that most of them were in the north and we were able to leave Georgia in August. Oh yes, we took a 10-day vacation before the meetings, which included three children, two parents, a three-seat station wagon and lots of fond memories."

Martha is now a physician in Athens, Ga.; her husband is a Harvard Ph.D. student. Jim and Donna enjoy babysitting their two-year old granddaughter while their son-in-law writes his dissertation. Donna Catherine is a Ph.D. student at Maryland in dramatic writing, and her husband is a third-year law student at George Washington Law School. Jim says, "Both Travis Pritchett and I have one child who is a doctor and one who wants to be a writer or actor. He was President of ARIA one or two years before me. We both graduated from Indiana University, Travis in Insurance and I in Finance. However, Donna and I had a third child, Jimmy, who is now a second-year law student at UGA. All three children graduated magnum cum laude from their colleges or universities. I am obviously proud of our children."

Through his comments, it is easy to observe Jim's pride in his children, as well as his passion for risk management and insurance education. Jim feels very fortunate to have spent a fulfilling professional career at The Terry College at UGA during the last 30 years and is grateful for the support of the school and his colleagues. His passion and fondness toward his school lead Jim to emphatically make the following statement about risk management and insurance education: "Wharton is the best and UGA is the best of the rest." Indeed, ARIA wishes Jim Trieschmann and his family the very best of health and happiness in all their future endeavors♣

Students Picked for Insurance Conference

Stephanie Moody and Matt Cohen, both graduates of the risk management and insurance major in spring 2003, were among 28 students selected to participate in the Anita Benedetti Student Involvement Program at the National Risk and Insurance Management Society's (RIMS) annual meeting. The program sponsors the student's attendance at the annual conference. This year's RIMS conference in Chicago was attended by over 8,000 risk and insurance professionals. This year also marked the 25th consecutive year that a Terry College student was picked for the student involvement program. <http://www.rims.org/content/Education/AnitaBenedettiSIP/index.htm>

RMI Graduates Gather at RIMS Conference

About 40 Terry College alumni gathered for this year's "UGA Night" held in April at the 2003 national meeting of the Risk and Insurance Management Society (RIMS) in Chicago. The Monday evening event, which has become a tradition at RIMS, was hosted by risk management and insurance faculty members Rob Hoyt and Chuck Nyce at the Fairmont Hotel Chicago. Beau Rowell (BBA '88), risk manager for Nokia in Helsinki, Finland, took the award for the alum who traveled the farthest distance to be at this year's event. The reception was sponsored by the international insurance brokerage firm Willis Inc. Join us again this year at the RIMS annual meeting in San Diego. The event will take place on Monday, April 19, 2004, at 5:45 p.m. in the Willis Hospitality Suite at the Hyatt - San Diego, 1 Market Place.

Insurance Expo 2003

Nearly 350 licensed insurance agents and underwriters, claims experts and vendors serving the insurance industry gathered at the Classic Center for the seventh annual Insurance Expo on March 25-26. As part of this year's expo, Department Head Rob Hoyt delivered a one-hour seminar, titled "Walking the Hard Market Tightrope." The Athens Association of Independent Insurance Agents and the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Co. hosted a networking luncheon for Terry College risk management and insurance undergraduates. Reg Davis (BBA '82), president of the Independent Insurance Agents of Georgia, and Larry Toole (BBA '68), president of the Athens Association of Independent Insurance Agents, spoke to an audience of more than 60 industry professionals and students who attended the luncheon.

RMI Students , Faculty Attend RIMS

Three members of the Terry College's Risk Management and Insurance faculty and close to 70 undergraduate students attended the 20th Annual Atlanta Risk Management and Insurance Society (RIMS) Educational Conference on January 23, 2003 at the Renaissance Waverly Hotel in Atlanta. This year's conference attracted more than 350 members of the Atlanta risk management and insurance community. Proceeds from the conference support various educational programs, including the Terry Risk Management and Insurance Program, which receives a gift of $10,000 annually from the Atlanta RIMS Chapter. This year's program chair was Connie Guy (BBA '89, MBA '91), and the current Atlanta RIMS Chapter president is Denise Schlitt Archer (BBA '89, MBA '92) <http://atlanta.rims.org/>

Students Receive Scholarships in 2003

Students in the Insurance Society received a financial boost at the Spring 2003 Banquet and the Fall 2003 Meeting of the Insurance Society as well as the AIMS Conference held in the Fall of 2003.

The annual Spring Banquet, co-hosted by the Gamma Iota Sigma chapter, included the presentation of the E.J. Leverett Excellence Awards. Receiving this award honoring outstanding, graduating seniors were Amanda Allen, Julie Harrison, Katherine West, and Chad Carpenter.

ACE Scholars included Jordan Praytor, James Reed, and Crystal Williams. Marsh Scholars were Wendy Sherman, Matthew Rowland, and Scott Bucholtz. Amanda Allen and Matt Cohen received the RIMS Scholarships. The Casualty and Surety Club of New York awarded Kari Cohen a scholarship. Also, the Andrew B. Robinson/Atlanta Claims Association honored Lillian Dampios with a scholarship. And finally, the Southern Loss Association awarded a scholarship to Anna Gingrich.

At the Fall meeting, general scholarships were awarded to over ninety students. Special scholarships were presented to Christi Kinder and Adam Pace from Hilb, Rogal, and Hobbs. As well, The Atlanta RIMS awarded scholarships to Josh Alexander and Annie Brooks.

Finally, at the 28th AIMS Conference dinner at Trump's (see page 2), several students were awarded scholarships. The Arthur J. Gallagher Scholarship was awarded to Steven Katcoff. Chad Carpenter received the Don Guin Memorial Scholarship. The Savannah CPCU society presented Will Cromley with a scholarship. Hilb, Rogal and Hobbs Scholarships were awarded to Kari Cohen, Jacob Stull, and Jeremy Miller. Novi Elder and Anna Gingrich received RIMS Scholarships. Four students were awarded a Travelers Scholarship: Ryan McLaughlin, Ari Weitz, Laura Newton, and Stephen Walker. Wausau Insurance awarded four students as well including Mary Beth Henderson, Dan Greene, Alexandra Jones, and Sarah Ratcliff. Also, Chubb Insurance presented scholarships to Lori Agee and Nicole Groover. Lastly, Kristina Lankford and Eric Ragone received scholarships from Zurich Insurance.

Scholarships are funded by generous support of alumni and industry partners. If you are interested in funding a scholarship, please contact Dr. Rob Hoyt at 706.542.4290 or rhoyt@terry.uga.edu

Congratulations to this year's recipients!

News from Gamma Iota Sigma President: Stephen Walker

I am proud to report that our insurance fraternity is strong. We signed over 50 new members in the Fall Semester 2003! Let me briefly share with you the following events GIS has sponsored this Fall semester:

- ❖ In September, we had our annual Fall Picnic with the Insurance Society that followed with a presentation from CNA. The next month, we held our Fall meeting which gave some GIS and Insurance Society members the opportunity to speak about their summer internship experiences.
- ❖ In late October, eight GIS members attended the international GIS conference in New York and were able to spend time with industry leaders and gain knowledge of current events taking place in various insurance and risk management fields. Our top-ranked University of Georgia risk management and insurance program was well represented.
- ❖ Each semester, Gamma Iota Sigma's VP of Industry Relations coordinates a program called Intern for a Day in which students are sent to insurance related firms for one day. The objective is for students to get a real life look at job functions associated with their academic interests in the insurance field. We sent 45 students this semester and we say thank you to AIG, The St. Paul, Federated Insurance, GEICO, and Auto-Owners Insurance Co. for their participation.

Internship Program Continues to Expand

Under the direction of Professor David Sommer, the internship program for risk management majors is continuing to prosper. Through the assistance of the department, 102 risk management students interned this previous year for various firms. Consequentially, several students received job offers from their respected companies. Kari Cohen, an intern with Zurich in New York proclaimed, "It was very beneficial to see the inner workings of a large company from the financial center of the world." Will Cromley, a NAPSLO intern, regards the program as "An opportunity to give me a well-rounded view of the industry by interning for a carrier and a wholesaler within surplus lines." Teddy Gillen, underwriting intern for Georgia Farm Bureau said, "The best part was having fun in a learning environment while being able to see different job opportunities available for risk management majors." Jon Nolan, an intern with J. Smith Lanier said, "Being my first insurance experience, I enjoyed the advantage of seeing a broader variety of insurance functions from claims, employee benefits, and surety."

If you are interested in learning more about our internship program, please contact the Internship Coordinator, Dr. David Sommer at 706.542.5160 or dsommer@terry.uga.edu.
